Developmental Screening, Referral Diagnosis and Service Task Force

On Tuesday November 23rd, a Developmental Screening, Referral, Diagnosis and Services Task Force was created to make recommendation to 1) address gaps in the system and 2) expand the WMG system to include evaluation and services for young children and their families when a concern has been identified through developmental screening or other mechanism. The task force will also seek to identify funding and resources for WMG and evaluation/ services.

Three work groups were created to engage in this work, including: screening, referrals, and the data system; interagency coordination and system gaps, and public awareness and training. Work groups will meet before the next full task force meeting at the end of January.

Watch Me Grow Website

The Watch Me Grow Website has been updated! The new site now features:

- Two new buttons on the home page: a link to “Get Started Today,” and a link to learn more about developmental screening, respectively. Get Started Today asks families to select their town/city from a dropdown menu, which brings them to the FRC home page for ASQ online. Families may complete the form online or contact the site for a paper copy of the tool.
- Expand resources for families and sites/partners in the “Contact and Resources” section. For example, the “For Our Sites and Partners” section will include a link to the FRCs’ Quarterly Reports.

We hope you will enjoy these improvements to the site!
